How To Use Xanax

Xanax is the brand name for alprazolam, a medication that belongs to a group called benzodiazepines. It's commonly to help manage anxiety disorders and panic disorder. Xanax works by calming activity in the brain, which can reduce feelings of intense worry, nervousness, or panic.

What Xanax is used for

- Generalized anxiety disorder (GAD)

- Panic attacks or panic disorder
- Short-term relief of severe anxiety symptoms

Because it acts quickly, some people notice effects within 30–60 minutes.

How Xanax is used

Xanax should only be used exactly as by a healthcare provider. Key points:

- It's usually taken by mouth, with or without food
- Doses vary depending on the condition, age, and response to treatment
- It may be prescribed once or multiple times per day
- Extended-release tablets should be swallowed whole, not crushed or chewed

Never increase the dose, take it more often, or use it longer. Doing so increases the risk of dependence and withdrawal.

Important safety information

- Xanax can cause drowsiness, dizziness, and slowed reaction time
- Avoid alcohol while taking it
- Do not drive or operate machinery until you know how it affects you
- Stopping suddenly can cause withdrawal symptoms—tapering must be guided by a doctor
